- On Baffin Island, located in northern Canada at the mouth of the famous NorthWest Passage, there is a small Inuit settlement at the very bounds of infinity. It's not so much the way of life that sets Pond Inlet's inhabitants apart, so much as the setting.

Day 13:- BEECEY ISLAND, NUVAVUT

- Beechey Island, at the eastern end of Resolute Bay, will call to mind some of the most important moments of Franklin’s expedition.
- Sir John set off in 1845 in search of the mythical Northwest Passage and was forced to take shelter in Erebus Harbour for two long years, while he waited for the ice floes to recede and allow him a way through.
- It is a spectacular location; seeing the three wooden grave markers, bleached by the sun (indicating the burial places of at least three of Captain Franklin’s men) and visiting the memorial that has been erected in memory of Franklin and his men can only reinforce the hushed sense of reverence.
- If the surrounding wilderness impresses us, the ochre and yellows of the rocky desert soften the landscape.
